

REMARKS

Reconsideration and allowance are requested.

New claims 85-113 relate to composition embodiments and find support in the specification of original claims.

Group I claims are elected with traverse.

The powdered aluminum in Rausch reference teaches against claim 1.

The Rausch reference does not disclose release agents, nor the solid gas generating compositions formulated with such an ingredient, which compositions are suitable for restraint systems, including air bags, balloons/landing balloons or vehicular.

No art was applied as to claims 83 and 84.

Favorable action on the elected claims is requested.

Respectfully submitted,
